

BRIEFLETS.

—Few arrests.
—The festive festivals still flourish.
—Where are all the red-ribbons gone?
—The Boat Club meets to-night for general business.
—The City Sealer of Weights and Measures is going the rounds with a wheelbarrow.
—It don't pay for a man now to boast of his worldly possessions. The assessor is abroad in the land with both cars open.
—Mr. Horace McElroy goes to Milton tonight to deliver his interesting lecture on "The City of the Kings," before one of the societies of the college.
—The Red Ribbon Club met last evening and accepted the resignation of Mr. E. L. Dimock as President, and elected to fill the vacancy Mr. John Spang.
—E. B. Heimstreet having given away all of his recipe books now wants to get back a couple of dozen of them, and will pay a nickel apiece for that number.
—Mr. L. B. Cutting is opening a furniture store in Mr. Withington's block on West Milwaukee street. He is getting in some well-made and finely finished goods.
—The Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting last evening and transacted some routine business and audited a few bills. The Board then elected Mr. A. O. Wilson to take the school census.

—In the Circuit Court to-day Walter Brown is on trial for arson. The particulars are already familiar to the readers of the Gazette. Mr. Ogden H. Fethers assists District Attorney Sale in the prosecution, and Messrs. M. M. Phelps and William Smith appear for the defendant.

—The photograph arrived in town this afternoon, and has taken up its headquarters in the store lately occupied by Mr. Isaac Farnsworth, where it can be seen and heard of all men. The managers found that this store suited their purposes better than Lappin's hall, which was originally announced as the place where it would hold forth.

—Prof. Van Cleave last night gave an interesting talk at Prof. Haire's room, concerning the late musical festival in Cincinnati. He spoke of the city itself, the rank it had taken in the musical world as well as in the commercial world, and then took up each of the concerts given during the week, and the composers whose productions were there rendered. It was an instructive treat to those interested in music.

—To-night there will be a joyful gathering at Apollo hall, it being a strawberry festival for the benefit of the African Methodist church. Besides the other attractions there will be some plantation hymns sung by Rev. N. Scates assisted by others. The admission fee will be a dime. There should be a large gathering, as the enterprise is a worthy one, and the entertainment itself will merit a liberal patronage.

—George Reum, the butcher, is not reforming very fast. Yesterday he yielded to the cup again, and became so crazy as to forget his duties as a husband, and his drunken abuse of his family caused him to be put under lock and key. It is said that he even went so far as to draw a knife and threaten to use it. It is about time that he was placed where he will not longer endanger the lives of his family and the safety of his neighbors.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer, at 7 o'clock this morning, stood 67 degrees above, and at 2 o'clock at 77 degrees above. Cloudy and showery. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 61 degrees above, and at 80 degrees above.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi, and lower Missouri valleys, generally lower pressure, easterly to southerly winds, slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather, and occasional rains, possibly followed in the northern portion of the last two districts by rising barometer and northerly winds.

A CHILD DROWNED.

Yesterday afternoon another sad drowning occurred. The family of Mr. David Lowry, living about six miles from the city on the Magnolia road, missed their little boy, a child of about eighteen months old, and on searching for him found his body in a water tank, into which he had fallen. He had been in the water so long that all hopes of resuscitation were vain.

CLOSE OF THE BAZAR.

The Baptist Bazar of Nations last evening called forth about three hundred spectators. The booths were arranged even more attractively than the evening previous, and there were many additional curiosities and costumes. About half-past nine o'clock all those who were in costume formed in line and marched around the room, there being about fifty persons in the parade. The American booth was considerably changed from the evening before. It was arranged with trees to represent a forest, and the wigwam was set up for sheltering the Indians. The Japanese booth was changed considerably also. The festival will probably net the society about $125. The ladies have worked hard in preparing this entertainment, and the reward is none too great.

WHERE TO BUY CLOTHING.

All those who desire to purchase anything in the line of clothing or gents' furnishing goods, or want garments made to order, should now improve the opportunity furnished by A. & F. Sonneborn, the popular tailors and clothiers in the Myers block. They have a large stock of new goods, and are prepared to meet all demands. Their prices have been put clear down till they reach bottom, and they proposed to sell at close margins. The public should bear in mind that they will not be undersold by anyone, and that they are bound to please in all respects those who patronize them. The firm has been doing business here long enough for the public to know that what they advertise to do they will live up to, and when they say good goods at low prices, they mean it. Give them a call and see for yourself their stock.

OBITUARY.

MR. LORENZO DEARBORN.

About 10 o'clock this morning Mr. Lorenzo Dearborn, one of our well-known citizens, died at his residence just south of the Edwards House. Mr. Dearborn was born in Corinth, Vt., February 8, 1815, and was consequently in his sixty-fourth year. He remained in Corinth until he became of age when he moved to Old Salem, Mass., where he engaged in business, and where he resided for about eighteen years. He then removed with his family to this state and settled in Edgerton, where he resided about five years, being the proprietor of the American House. He then removed to Chicago, and for a time was landlord of the Union Park Hotel, which was then on the site of the present Washington House. His health was such that the lake shore atmosphere and winds affected him seriously and he then removed to Janesville, first settling here in 1865. He became the proprietor of the Schuyler House, which he afterwards sold to Mr. A. B. Edwards, who changed the name to the Edwards House. Last year Mr. Dearborn removed to Fort Atkinson, where he engaged in the hotel business, but his property was destroyed by fire, and he again returned to this city.

For some years past he has been in ill health, and especially during the past few weeks. For nearly three weeks, in addition to other difficulties, he had stomachic troubles, which prevented him from retaining nourishment. Last Wednesday lithotomy was successfully performed, and yesterday he felt greatly relieved, but last night his old trouble returned, and he commenced vomiting, which continued until it exhausted his little remaining strength, and death ensued.

Mr. Dearborn was a man widely known in this part of the State, and generally esteemed. He was for many years in his life a successful and popular landlord, and many there are who will remember him with kindness. He leaves besides his wife, two sons, Lorenzo P. Dearborn, and J. Buchanan Dearborn, and two daughters, Mrs. David Watt and Miss Hattie Dearborn. Mr. Watt, who is now away, has been telegraphed to, and will probably reach the city to-morrow.

The funeral services will take place next Sunday, but the hour and other details have not yet been arranged.

A MODEL FARM.

Yesterday afternoon we had the pleasure of a drive to the farm of Mr. H. S. Woodruff, and took note of the many improvements he has made thereon and took a look at his stock. The farm contains a hundred acres, twenty of which are in timber. A long, gravel drive, on each side of which are planted shade trees, leads to the farm house, a short distance from which stands one of the best barns in the state. The main portion is forty by eighty feet, and an ell is built thirty by forty feet. This affords ample room for feed and stock. A power-mill for grinding feed, and a power ladder enter prepare the food in shape for a steamer, and all the necessary apparatus is arranged so as to be as convenient as any one could desire. Two large cisterns, one containing 500 barrels and the other 300 barrels, are located in connection with the barn, and there is also one of the best root cellars ever built. Its walls are three feet thick, and the room is ten by thirty feet and ten feet high. There is a small room for storing away fodder in the loft, while on the lower floor, which is level with the ground at the rear, are provided stalls and all the necessary conveniences for keeping stock cleanly and comfortable. The barn is well ventilated, and is a model in all respects.

A large wind-mill stands on the farm which industriously pumps an abundant supply of pure water into tanks which are conveniently arranged so that the stock when in the fields can partake freely. In order to guard against any possible lack of supply, by a long canal, or by a breakage in the machinery, a substantial reservoir has been built eight feet by sixteen, and eight feet deep.

The stock on the farm is well worth looking at. There are some fine Berkshire pigs, a few good horses, and a large number of good cows. Mr. Woodruff takes pride in getting and keeping good milkers, and is constantly improving his stock, and now has a fine display.

The stock being thus provided with water as pure and abundant as from a flowing stream, and being fed with ground and steamed corn and oats, and given cleanly and abundant pasture, the milk cannot but be of the richest and purest kind. The greatest care is exercised as to cleanliness also. The whole production of milk is taken by Mr. George Hield for his customers, and he finds his patronage daily increasing, owing to the quality of the supply.

The farm is now arranged as conveniently and comfortably for stock as any in this vicinity. The improvements lately made are all practical and of true merit. There is no "kitchen-sink" work, or any labor wasted on useless fancies, but everything looks business like. It is in fact one of the model farms.

EVANSVILLE.

The society people of Evansville have been on the qui vive for some weeks in anticipation of a wedding that took place last evening, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Hattie Louise Spencer to Mr. Will C. Metcalf, of Fort Atkinson. The ceremony took place last evening at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. George Spencer. The Rev. Mr. Goldthorpe officiated. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were Miss Lizzie Pettigrew and Mr. George Spencer, Jr., brother of the bride; Miss Nora Andrews and Mr. Andrew Manning, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Griswold, nee Evans. A reception was given to the newly-married couple, at which a large number of the friends of the family were present. The presents were very numerous and unusually rich in value and variety. The toilet of the ladies were many of them worthy of mention for elegance and taste. The bride wore a magnificent white satin dress, with the traditional floral adornments. By way of contrast the bridesmaids wore simple white Swiss, with natural wild flowers. After partaking of a sumptuous wedding supper and bidding adieu to the many friends the young couple took the train for Chicago, whence they go on a short trip.

ANOTHER ENTERPRISE.

I have a proposition from an Eastern manufacturer to locate in this city in a business already established, that will employ about one hundred workmen. It will require a cash capital of fifty thousand dollars. The party who makes the proposition can furnish thirty thousand dollars and desires to have balance taken here. Full particulars can be had by an inquiry at my office.

UNITARIAN MISSIONS.

Rev. Jenk L. Jones, of this city, who is in attendance at the Western Unitarian Conference now in session at Chicago, reported yesterday to that body his work during the past year as missionary. The summary of his remarks, as given by the Chicago Times, is as follows:

During the year he had traveled nearly twelve thousand miles in the discharge of his duty, and labored in forty-eight places as against thirty-eight the previous year, and received some eight hundred communications regarding the work, a large excess over the communications received the previous year. He complained of the meagreness of the contributions to the cause. The laity of liberal thought was working rapidly all over the country. In many places Unitarian churches could be established if a little aid could be extended. Even in the Catholic church the eggs were being laid that hatched out into the beetle of scientific rationalism. Among the orthodox communications only timidly restrained many clergymen and laymen from becoming Unitarians. Several ministers from other denominations had sacrificed honors and emoluments for the sake of liberal religion, and it was astonishing how many orthodox ministers would become Unitarians if they could be guaranteed $5,000 a year each. Messrs. Wright, from the Baptist church, Watkins, from the Reformed Episcopal church, and Mesmer, of the Presbyterian church, were waiting for a chance to turn an honest penny in the vineyard of liberal religion. He felt that there was a great future before Unitarianism in the west, and he urged the conference to enter in and possess the land. He urged particularly the cordial support of the theological school at Newville, Pennsylvania, which had twenty students, and had just graduated six young men.
